

Kathleen's passion for developing data-driven consumer engagement not only delivers results, it delivers the kind of results that consistently exceed clients' expectations. Recognized among MM+M's "40 Under 40 in 2021," Kathleen is passionate about creating digital transformation that drives both relationships and growth. An education enthusiast, Kathleen will be leading the innovation department at Unlock Health and is an adjunct professor for Rice University's MBA program teaching a class on Applied AI in Business.